

Match v Gloucestershire at Tewkesbury Park Golf Club

23rd June 2016

Tewkesbury Park Golf Club was opened in 1976 and is based in the grounds of a hotel which was extended round a fine country house originally built for the Bishop of Worcester.

The course provides fine views of the Cotswolds, Malvern Hills and Tewkesbury Abbey and has many veteran oak trees in strategic positions on some holes.

Despite the recent rainy weather, we were blessed with a warm and humid day, plus excellent Gloucestershire hospitality and first class cuisine in the hotel which made it a memorable day.

The result was a close run event right down to the last match out, but in the end Warwickshire notched up a win 4½ to 3½
